mer Efforts

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., July 26.—

W. J. Bryan arrived here this morning and stated that he would think no compromise on the county option question before the convention. "This is no time to talk of a compromise," said Mr. Bryan, "I am here to fight and fight I will to the best of my ability on the floor of the convention."

"If it is shown during the convention that I am hopelessly beaten, I will still fight and then talk of compromise."

"I am going into this convention this afternoon and expect to win."

Great Fight Promised

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., July 26.—There is every indication that the question of a county option plank for the democracy party of Nebraska will be fought out on the convention floor this afternoon.

Despite the efforts of the machine to quietly stick the knife into Wm. J. Bryan outside the convention hall, he has too many supporters that will not compromise and the result is that this afternoon there will be a grand scrap. Bryan will get the chance to make a speech and the 1,000 or more people gathered here are prepared to listen to a masterpiece.

Close friends of Bryan made the statement today that they would not compromise on the option plank unless they say that they were hopelessly defeated. They intimated that if they should be forced to a compromise, it would be along the following lines:

The convention to refer the county option matter to the various legislative districts and the nominee for governor to be pledged to sign a county option bill, if such a measure should be passed by the legislature.

It is stated that this compromise would be satisfactory to Gov. Shalenger.

A meeting was held by the anti-Bryan leaders of the convention late last night at which it was decided that county option would be taboed entirely by the convention. If they could control, in favor of the initiative referendum.

On this policy the leaders hope to unite the various factions of the party. Bryan is in favor of the initiative and so are the anti-optionists. It was figured that endorsement of the initiative by the convention would give all counties a chance to vote for or against option. But after the meeting adjourned, and a canvass of the Bryan workers in Grand Island was made, it was found that the plan would not work and that county option could not be killed except on the floor of the convention.

Another conference was held early today, with the result that the fight for and against option will be made on the floor of the convention.

Colonel Says He Has No
Choice, But Friends
Say He Wants Garfield to Win

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—Judging from sentiment crystallizing at republican state headquarters, a couple of hours before the sounding of the "keynote" the Cox-Burton-Dick-Ellis-Brown combination has overlooked quite a few bets and incidentally kicked up a row in its own midst.

With each succeeding minute of inaction discreet politicians admit, the convention is slipping away from them and unless they agree upon a definite program within a few hours the delegates will surely stampede to Garfield and his progressive platform.

NEW YORK, July 26.—When Col. Roosevelt was asked at the Outlook today whether he had anything to say concerning the Ohio republican convention at Columbus, he replied:

"I want to see a progressive platform adopted, that is all."

To his friends the colonel is said privately to have expressed a preference for James R. Garfield as the gubernatorial nominee.

When he was first informed that Judge Kinkaid, Taft's choice for governor had withdrawn from the race, the colonel was apparently surprised.

"You don't mean to say that the judge has withdrawn," said he.

Still Seek Opponent

COLUMBUS, O., July 26.—When the old line bosses of the republican party crawled into their beds at daylight this morning after a night of many conferences, they were still hunting for a man to beat James R. Garfield for the republican nomination for governor. All the organization leaders took a hand in the anti-Garfield game. The arrival of Garfield and his publication of a statement defining his attitude toward President Taft's administration sent the stock of the former secretary of the interior so high that the opposition were plainly worried.

Minor differences were laid aside in their efforts to concentrate upon a "sane, progressive" candidate, whom the convention would accept as a substitute for Garfield.

Administration Worried

At intervals throughout the night U. S. Senator Burton who leads the opposition to Garfield, was in conference with Geo. B. Coz, United States Senator Dick, Wade H. Ellis, Walter Brown, Arthur I. Vorhies, Congressman Taylor and C. D. Hiles, assistant secretary of the treasury, who is here as the personal representative of President Taft. Cox endeavored to persuade Burton to line up for Judge O. B. Brown without success. The other conferees, known as the administration crowd, discussed a number of possibilities among them Atty. Gen. Denman, Congressman Longworth, Joseph T. Carey, of Cincinnati, and Vorhies himself. Nothing definite resulted and with the convention but a few hours away Garfield today looms as the big obstacle in their path.

Warren G. Harding, the Marion editor, and former lieutenant governor, failed to secure the support of the administration crowd principally because Senator Burton has not forgotten Harding's opposition to Burton for senator two years ago. The consensus of opinion is that if Garfield is to be beaten he must be defeated by a man of his own progressive type.

Progressive Platform

It is certain that all of the planks advocated by Garfield will be incorporated in the platform. Senator Dick, who is slated to be chairman of the resolutions committee, has adopted about all of the Garfield ideas, except the Garfield plank relating to the national administration. Instead of endorsing President Taft for his efforts to carry out party pledges, as Garfield proposes, Dick will insist on a blanket endorsement of the administration.

The convention will be called to order at 4 o'clock this afternoon by State Chairman Walter Brown of Toledo. The keynote speech will be delivered by Congressman Longworth.

At 2 o'clock all district delegations met at the state house and elected members of convention committees and state central committees. There are 1066 delegates to the convention and 534 votes are necessary to a choice.

LABOR STRIKES IN SPAIN MAY LEAD TO REVOLT

STANDPATTER IS VOTED CHAIRMAN

U. S. Senator Brown of Nebraska Defeats Norris, the Insurgent, in Convention

LINCOLN, Neb., July 26.—Insurgency vs. Standpat is almost the only bone of contention at the republican state convention which assembled at the Lincoln auditorium at 3 p. m. today. The leaders of both factions were busy lining up their forces during the morning hours and when the hour came for the calling of the convention both sides were claiming the victory.

Congressman Norris, who led the fight in congress on the Cannon rules, is the choice of the insurgents for the permanent chairmanship, while National Committeeman Rosewater and United States Senator Burkett, chiefs of the standpat cohorts, and who control the temporary organization of the convention have picked United States Senator Brown for temporary chairman and are bent on checking Norris by making permanent the temporary organization.

A county option plank will surely be adopted, a large majority of the delegates being instructed to that end.

The endorsement of Taft and the Aldrich-Cannon tariff law hinged on the result of the chairmanship fight. The permanent chairman appoints the resolutions committee, and U. S. Senator Brown defeated Norris for the chairmanship, giving the Cannonites a lead.

Would Work Trick

Just before the republicans went into convention it was reported that an effort would be made by the anti-optionists to secure the adoption by the convention of a plank merely pledging the republican nominee for governor to the signing of a county option bill if one should be passed. The scheme has the backing of Victor Rosewater, national committeeman from Nebraska.

CHICAGOAN DIES IN BELFAST FIRE

BELFAST, July 26.—The Hotel Kelvin, one of the leading hostilities of the city, was totally destroyed by fire early today. Three persons were killed, three fatally and two seriously injured. Among the fatally hurt were Rev. W. M. McCaughan (or Rev. W. J. McCarrighan) and his wife, Presbyterians, who recently arrived here from Chicago. Sir Valentine Blake's seat in Galway county, Manlough Castle, was also destroyed by fire today and his daughter, Miss Blake, with two servants, perished.

Jumped From Windows

The fire which destroyed the Hotel spread with unusual rapidity. Rev. John McCaughan with his wife, occupied a room on the upper floor. They attempted to make their way through the hall to the steps but were caught in the flames and seriously burned. They were forced back to a window. When the flames reached them they leaped to the street, being frightfully crushed. It is not expected they can recover.

Rev. McCaughan was for nine years pastor of a church in Chicago. He resigned his pastorate there three years ago to take charge of a church in Belfast.

Many of the hotel guests were compelled to jump from windows and were slightly injured.

CHICAGO, July 26.—For nine years the Rev. William J. McCaughan was pastor of the Third Presbyterian church here, having come from St. Andrews church in Toronto. Both he and Mrs. McCaughan are well known. He resigned his pastorate in 1907 to accept the pulpit of May Street Presbyterian church, Belfast, Ireland. Mrs. McCaughan is a native of Philadelphia.

CHICAGO AUTO ACCIDENT

CONVICTS SHOT SEEKING ESCAPE

Two Make Sensational Dash for Freedom, and One whose Release was Near Is Slain

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, July 26.—In a desperate attempt to escape from the government prison at Fort Leavenworth today, William J. Laughlin was killed by one of the guards and Chester K. Armington wounded. Armington is at liberty and guards are searching for him in the underbrush along the Missouri river.

Laughlin and Armington were unloading sand near the entrance to the stockade, the gate being open. When the guard, James Brinkley, had his back turned, the two men made a dash for the gate. Brinkley did not see them running until they were just outside the gate. Running to that point, he fired first at Laughlin, who dropped, and then at Armington. Laughlin was dead by the time the guard reached him.

Armington escaped despite a fusillade of shots by other guards but limped perceptibly while running away. He is believed to be hidden in the underbrush and the guards expect to capture him in a short time. Laughlin was sentenced from Miles county, Montana. His term would have expired in 1913.

BIG OPIUM STILL IN KANSAS CITY

$26,000 Worth of Drug and $25,000 Cash Found in Supply Station of the Southwest

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 26.—The largest opium still ever unearthed in the United States was discovered in the heart of the city today. Several men were captured, together with $25,000 in cash.

The detectives seized $26,000 worth of the drug, and $25,000 in gold, silver and currency. Charles K. Wong, manager of the place was arrested along with half a dozen other Chinese.

The government detectives, G. H. Anderson and R. H. Love, assisted by the two local officers, burst in the doors of the establishment of the Charles K. Wong, Sang Company, and in a rear room found a still containing $10,000 worth of the drug in operation. Much of the remainder of the opium seized was found packed between several hundreds decks of playing cards ready to ship.

Opium in crude form was discovered under mattresses, in jars, cups and dishes and in several unopened cartons.

The government secret service men say the entire southwest has been supplied through Kansas City.

MORE PLANS TO HARASS RAILROAD

TORONTO, Ont., July 26.—President W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and President A. B. Garretson of the Order of Railway Conductors, are expected to reach here today to confer with Vice-Presidents Berry and Murdock who have been directing the strike on the Grand Trunk. It is understood that the conference will be to determine what further means shall be taken to tie up the railroad. The fact that the conference is held here instead of in Montreal where the main offices of the railroad are, is taken to indicate that it is not to be of a pacific nature.

KANSAS CITY, July 26.—Former President Roosevelt will be the guest of the National Roosevelt league and the Commercial club of Kansas City after the afternoon and evening of September 1. Acceptance of an invitation to visit Kansas City was received today.

CROSS-THE-SEA RACE DRAMATIC

Anxious Police will Soon Know whether Dr. Crippen and Typist Are Aboard Montrose

REPORTED ARRESTED

But Scotland Yard Inspectors Doubt Story Because of Weak Wireless on Steamer

QUEBEC, July 26.—Canada is watching the dramatic cross-the-sea race between Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard and the pair supposed to be Dr. H. H. Crippen and Miss Ethel Claire Leneve, with increased interest. Although officials here declare they have not yet been in wireless touch with the Montrose, the Canadian Pacific liner, on which Crippen and his typist are reported to be passengers, they say the charts show the White Star liner Laurentic, on which Inspector Dew is pursuing them, is only 250 miles astern and therefore probably in wireless communication.

The Montrose sailed from Antwerp on July 20 but she is a very slow boat, while the Laurentic is a fast mail carrier and sure to overhaul and pass the Montrose at sea, though sailing several days later. Inspector Dew should therefore land one day at least ahead of the suspected pair and be on hand to arrest them. The White Star line officials say the Laurentic will land her mail and first class passengers at Rimouski, the first port of call on the gulf of St. Lawrence, about 60 miles from Quebec, either Friday or Saturday morning. Only passengers in a hurry to catch trains usually get off at Rimouski, but it is now doubtful that this will be Inspector Dew's landing place.

Montrose Won't Land

The Montrose will hardly reach Rimouski before Sunday morning. As she is not a mail boat, the Montrose is not due to stop there. She usually picks up her river pilot at Father Point, a few miles away, and proceeds toward Quebec and Montreal.

In a case like this, the officials say, there is little doubt that the Montrose will either land off Rimouski to await Inspector Dew, or that police official will board her from the pilot's boat.

The Montrose is equipped with a short distance Marconi wireless set which is limited to sending within a radius of 200 miles, but her receiving instruments can pick up messages from a longer distance. It is probable, therefore that if the Laurentic has come up close to the Montrose at sea, as is believed, Inspector Dew has been in communication with the captain and is satisfied in his own mind whether he is trailing the right quarry.

"AFFINITIES" ARE FOUND IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 26.—Trailed over the country for two years and finally apprehended through a package mailed here from Chicago, Fred Archambault and his "affinity" were arrested here today at the instance of Mrs. Archambault, who arrived last night. Nellie Taylor, the daughter of a prominent family at Mangon, Okla., arrested with Archambault, is about 25 years of age and very pretty.

Mrs. Archambault said today that she intended to prosecute her husband and Miss Taylor to the limit and will then seek a divorce in the Chicago courts.

SPANISH CRISIS GROWING CRITICAL

BARCELONA, July 26.—Owing to the report of government spies that a bloody revolution is imminent, 10,000 troops and 2,000 additional gendarmes armed with rifles and riot cartridges, today occupied strategic positions all over the city of Barcelona, which is practically under martial law, although the constitution has not been suspended.

HEAT KILLS A DUBUQUE CHILD

DUBUQUE, Iowa, July 26.—(Special.)—Henry, aged 4 son of Wm. Radloff, 80 Madison street, succumbed today of brain fever induced by the heat three days ago. The child has been delirious since the first attack.

TEXAS SWELTERING

EL PASO, Texas, July 26.—Texas and the entire southwest are sweltering in the worst heat wave in many years. Numerous prostrations have also been reported. The temperature is 106.

It is probable, therefore that if the Laurentic has come up close to the Montrose at sea, as is believed, Inspector Dew has been in communication with the captain and is satisfied in his own mind whether he is trailing the right quarry.

The Canadian officials expect to get into wireless communication with the Montrose from Belle Isle, Labrador, tomorrow night or Thursday morning and to learn definitely whether Crippen and Miss Leneve are on board.

Doubt Story of Capture

LONDON, July 26.—Scotland Yard officials are today out of wireless touch with the boat on which Dr. H. H. Crippen, the alleged wife murderer, and Miss Ethel Claire Leneve are believed to be fleeing to Canada, and therefore doubt the authenticity of the story published here that the pair had been arrested in mid-ocean by the captain of the Canadian Pacific liner Montrose and that Miss Leneve had confessed.

This circumstantial story did not tell how the papers had received the information but told how Crippen and Miss Leneve had been heard discussing the crime; how they had been placed under arrest and a revolver and a knife taken from Crippen and how they were being held under armed guard in separate cabins.

The police official declare the vessel on which Crippen and Miss Leneve are passengers is equipped with a very weak set of wireless instruments which will not carry "waves" more than 200 miles at most, so that it is practically impossible that she could have been in communication with the shore yesterday.

Captain Probably Mistaken

As a result the police give little credence to the arrest story. In point of fact the police are today manifesting extreme nervousness over possibility that the captain of the Montrose may have been mistaken in his identification of "Rev. Robinson and son," as Dr. Crippen and his typist. It is pointed out that the captain made the identification more upon the nervous actions of the couple

FAR EASTERN ISLE SHAKEN FOR DAYS

Great Fissures Appear in Hokkaido and Cracked Mountain Emits Boiling Mud

FATALITIES HEAVY

Hundreds May Be Dead in Terrible Disaster, and Japanese Government Is Rushing Aid

TOKIO, July 26.—Tremendous earthquakes and a volcanic eruption have worked havoc at Usabay, on the southern part of the island of Hokkaido, according to advices received here today. Few details have been received but it is believed that the fatalities will be very heavy.

The advices say the earthquake shocks began on July 22, and continued almost without interruption until today, 184 distinct tremors being recorded.

Shortly after the shocks began subterranean rumblings were heard and almost simultaneously, more than 100 fissures appeared on the side of Mount Usu and a violent eruption followed. While huge quantities of red hot sand and boiling mud were thrown high in the air by the mountain, Mount Usu began to crumble and collapse on all sides and today had almost been leveled.

For four days a panic had reigned in the vicinity of the mountain and 8,000 refugees have abandoned their homes and are fleeing inland for their lives. It is feared that the entire surrounding country will be laid waste by the volumes of hot sand.

Shipping Destroyed

The meagre advices received here state that during the most violent earthquakes there was a terrific upheaval of Usu Bay and the harbor and practically all the shipping in the bay were destroyed as a result of the upheaval. The great bay is now only four fathoms deep. It is impossible for officials here to estimate the loss of life. The government hurried its preparations for relief of the stricken people as soon as today's dispatches were received. Several warships hastily loaded with supplies today and rushed out with all possible speed. Simultaneously the military authorities ordered assistance to control the situation and to preserve order until the refugees could be cared for. The government also authorized the province prefecture to render all the aid necessary to provide food and shelter for the suffering people. The public apprehension was increased today when the government announced that it had received no word from Hakodate, the largest city on the island, a town of about 50,000 population. It is feared here that the city has suffered heavily as the result of the earthquake.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 26.—Burt Williams of Ashland, sole nominee of the recent Democratic state convention for United States senator, in a signed statement accuses Congressman Weiss of bad faith in becoming a candidate against him, says he is amazed at such an astounding attitude, and that the Democratic voters of the state will not indorse the congressman's unjust action toward himself.

PARTY COLORS ON THE DUNN BALLOT

At last the colors to be used by the various political parties in the counties, in the state which adopt the Dunn pocket ballot system, have been decided by lot in the office of the secretary of state.

Dark green, red, light blue and pink cards were placed in a hat and a clerk did the drawing. White was taboed, as being no specific color, and yellow because of the popular prejudice against it.

The colors were allotted as follows:

Republican party, dark green; Democratic party, red; Social Democratic party, light blue, and Prohibition party, pink.

ANTI-TAWNEY MEN IN SESSION TODAY

Sidney A. Anderson of Fillmore County May Be Pitted Against Winona Man

ROCHESTER, Minn., July 26.—A meeting of the Progressive Republicans of the First Congressional district is being held here today and it is likely that Sidney A. Anderson of Fillmore county will be brought out as a candidate against Congressman James A. Tawney.

The meeting is being held in the office of Thomas Fraser in this city. A call has been issued to all prominent in the progressive movement, and it is hoped to have at least three representatives from each county present at the meeting. The statement issued says:

"We have found a candidate who is willing to make the run against Tawney, in the person of Sidney A. Anderson of Fillmore county, a prominent young attorney of that county. He is a good speaker, likely appearing and will make an excellent fight against Tawney." It closes with the significant words, "Should the representatives decide upon some other man than Mr. Anderson, another candidate has been found who is willing to make the run."

Although this is indefinite, the leaders in Freeborn county incline to the belief that the dark horse candidate is none other than Thomas Fraser. It is thought that if Anderson fails to make the impression which it is hoped he will make, then Fraser will step in and save the day.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 26.—John Lind will refuse to accept the democratic nomination for governor, if he is named by the state convention next Thursday, according to a positive statement made in a letter to a Minneapolis friend, which was read at a meeting of local democrats at the Nicollet house. As a result sixteen members of the Hennepin delegation signed a request to M. C. The purpose is to get Hennepin to indorse the candidacy of John Jensen of Duluth.

Pollenization is progressing rapidly, though the corn is said to be in need of rain. With periodic showers and temperature weather, they say the crop will exceed 25,000,000 bushels.

Small grains for the most part have been harvested, with a better crop than was expected.

A NEEDED EXAMPLE
In questioning whether Mr. Roosevelt is really entitled to leadership in the Progressive movement, The Denver Post expresses the opinion that the former president is disposed to use a phrase which comes from the same source as the square deal, to play both ends against the middle. It says:
"Take the case of La Follette. No man in the whole country has done more to secure and shape legislation intended to benefit the many rather than the few, and this in the days when the Aldrich-Hale combine was all powerful in the senate. Yet now he faces a desperate fight for re-election, himself penurious, his enemies able to marshal millions. Col. Roosevelt has been most emphatic in declaring that he will go into Massachusetts and help Lodge against Butler Ames, an honest man, a popular champion. Why doesn't he say something about helping La Follette? Why doesn't he go into Wisconsin and insure La Follette's re-election by one or two powerful speeches setting forth the man's value to the country, his wonderful work for the people? That is the way to prove that he is indeed 'come back.'"
If Mr. Roosevelt should come to Wisconsin to make speeches for Mr. La Follette, it would remove any doubt as to the former president's attitude, though we doubt if it would be of any benefit to the Wisconsin senator. For the people of this state are capable of doing their own thinking. The Republicans of Wisconsin were Progressive when Mr. Roosevelt was known only as a rough rider of civil service reform antecedents. They won their battles in Wisconsin without his assistance and they can hold the ground that they have won without his help. They do not resent the fact that when they were in the hardest battle with the railways and the allied interests his sympathy was with the Stalwart faction. For they know that he was misled. But they ask no aid from him now. They are quite able to win their own fights. The people of Wisconsin do not look with approval upon the intermeddling in their affairs by Taft. They are not looking to Ohio or New York for direction. Mr. Roosevelt can render us no better service than by keeping his hands out of our local affairs and setting an example to his successor in the White House that is sorely needed.—Milwaukee Journal.

CUMMINS' PLAIN SPEECH
When Senator Cummins said, in his speech at Council Grove, "I believe that the republican party can be made the most progressive party on earth," it is possible to read between the lines that he does not believe in the necessity of a new party, while, on the other hand we take notice of the qualifying words "can be made."
But when the senator tells the story of the tariff traitors within the party he speaks in unqualified terms. He says that when it became the duty of congress to revise the tariff in accordance with the pledge of the party, congress, under the leadership of Cannon and Aldrich—not only "DID NOT DO IT; IT DID NOT EVEN ATTEMPT TO DO IT."
Mr. Cummins gives specific illustrations of how Senator Aldrich and his followers "openly and contemptuously repudiated every word of that pledge."
If the republican party is to be the great progressive party the special interest man must be eliminated. "That is my sermon," says Cummins, "that is why I talk and if it helps or hurts anyone where I may be talking it does not bother me." This at least is plain speech.

SPOTLIGHTS

$100 FOR NEW WORD
La Crosse people who are enjoying the entertainment afforded by the various moving picture enterprises in the city will no doubt be interested in the offer made by the Essanay Film Mfg. Co., of Chicago, who are offering $100 for a new word.
This is the offer in detail, and the terms of the contest:
One hundred dollars is offered for a new name for "moving picture show."
The contest is open immediately for all who desire to contribute a word or any number of different words.
The word or words should be typewritten or written plainly in ink on the face of an envelope, while the name and address of the contributor of the word should be written on a slip of paper and sealed within the envelope.
As the envelopes are received they will be time-stamped, so that in case there is more than one contributor of the prize-winning word, that envelope which is received first will contain the name of the winner of the $100.
The judges in the contest will be men of acknowledged authority in moving picture affairs.
The contest opens immediately and will be concluded at noon, September 1st, and the name of the prizewinner will be announced as soon thereafter as is consistent.
Contestants should address their contributions to the Contest Editor, Essanay Film Mfg. Co., 435 North Clark street, Chicago, Ill.
The object of the contest is to discover a name that will add newness and novelty to the moving picture theaters, and at the same time be more descriptive of the character of entertainment. The names, "Nickelodeon," "Picture Theater," etc., have been outgrown, and a new name is sought.
This offer does not call for suggestions for proper names, such as "Pastime," "Dreamland," "Electric" and "Elite." They are not in the running as the name desired should be a noun, descriptive of the kind of amusement offered in a picture theater, other than vandeville.
A name is wanted with an uplift ring to it, something which means that artistic animated or motion pictures are shown; designed to entertain, educate, amuse, inspire to better morals and aid in the culture and refinement of mankind; that the pictures are accompanied with appropriate music, and that the musical

The Porter's Dilemma
The porter was greatly perplexed. At High Polsover a lady with a lorgnette entered the train. She was a middle aged, tall, angular, tailor-made woman, and she looked sternly at the commercial traveler in the seat opposite through her lorgnette. Before seating herself she opened the carriage window. At Hillsdon Cross another woman came in. She had fluffy hair and an appealing look in her blue eyes. She sat down and glanced at the open window and shivered pathetically; then she looked at the commercial traveler.
"I shall be frozen to death!" cried the fluffy haired lady.
"If this window is closed, I shall suffocate!" cried the other woman.
The porter opened his mouth. He started to raise the window. Then he retreated. Dazed, he turned appealingly to the commercial traveler. That gentleman rose, passed by the ladies opened the door to the platform and went out, followed by the porter.
"And what, sir," said the porter, "would you say as 'ow I should do, sir?"
"It's quite simple," said the commercial traveler. "Leave the window as it is, open it; one lady is frozen to death, then close it and suffocate the other. I'm going forward for the rest of the trip."—London Opinion.

Light on the Kitten Question
Two small boys were discussing the arrival of a baby sister and also some little kittens. Paul (aged 4) said to Robert (aged 6): "Where do you suppose these kittens came from? Did the stork bring them just as he did baby sister?"
Robert answered in disgust: "Of course not, goose. Storks couldn't bring kittens—God made them. He said, 'Let there be kittens,' and there was kittens."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Working Overtime
"I see you claim one hour's overtime, Bill," said the master of the mill. "How's that? I thought no one worked overtime last week."
Bill passed a horny hand across his mouth.
"Quite right, guv'nor," he replied. "One hour's me due."
The master regarded him suspiciously.
"Come, when was it?" he inquired.
"Last Thursday," responded Bill. "I was sent up to your 'ouse to 'elp shake the carpets."
"Yes, I remember that distinctly," cut in the "boss." "But you got off at 6 sharp."
"Ah, that's true, guv'nor, as far as it goes," assented the man. "But your missus give me 'arf a meat pie to take 'ome, an' that there hour is for bringing the dish back"—Answers.

program includes all the latest popular songs, illustrated with highly artistic lantern slides. This information, condensed in one word, will be worth $100 to the Essanay Film Mfg. Co.
This contest is open to all who care to enter, and there are no strings of any kind to this offer.
The offer is made to the people of La Crosse through the kindness of Manager McWilliams of the Bijou theater. Mr. McWilliams is anxious to have the money come to La Crosse, therefore it is up to everybody to get on their "thinking caps."
The moving picture industry is well exemplified in La Crosse, and there are excellent opportunities to gain information and amusement along this line of endeavor.
To those who desire to enter this contest it is suggested that frequent attendance to these forms of entertainment may help solve the problem and bring home the money.

"Villain, what have you to say? What was your purpose?"
How many years, thought Herbeck, had he been preparing for this moment? How long had he been steeling his heart against this very scene? Futile dream! He drew himself together with a supreme effort. He would face this hour as he had always planned to face it. Found out! He looked at his finger, touched it with an impersonal curiosity. He had forgotten all about such a possibility. Where had he read that there is no crime but leaves some evidence, infinitesimally small though it be, which shall lead to the truth? After all, he was glad. The strain, borne so long, was gradually killing him. A little finger, to have stopped the wheel of so great a scheme! Irony!
"Your Highness," he said, his voice soft and strangely clear, "I have been waiting for this hour. So I am found out! How little we know what God intends!"
"You speak of God? You blaspheme!"
"Bear with me for a space. I shall not hold you long."
"But why? What have I done to you that you should wreck all I hold dear?"
"For you I have always had a strong affection, strange as it may sound," Herbeck fumbled with his collar, which was tightening round his throat like a band of hot iron. "I have practically governed this country for sixteen years. In that time I have made it prosperous and happy; I have brought peace where you would have brought war. To my people God will witness that I have done my duty as I saw it. One day I fell the victim of a mad dream. And to think that I almost won!"
"And I?" said Hildegarde, her hands clenched and pressed against her bosom. "What have you done to me, who am innocent of any wrong? What have you done to me?"
"You, my child? I have wronged you greatest of all. The wrong I have done to you is irreparable. Ah, have not my arms hungered for the touch of you, my heart ached for the longing of you? To see you day after day, always humble before you, always glad to kiss the back of your hand! Have I not lived in hell, your Highness?" turning to the duke.
"What am I, and who am I?" whispered Hildegarde, her heart almost ceasing to beat.
"I am your father!" simply.

CHAPTER XXIII. Happiness.
The grand duke of Ehrenstein beheld the chancellor with that phase of astonishment which leaves the mind unclouded. The violent storm in his heart gave way to a calm, not at all menacing, but tinged with a profound pity. What a project! What a mind to conceive it, to perfect it down to so small a detail as a jeweler's mark in the gold of the locket! And a little finger to betray it! In a flash he saw vividly all this man had undergone, day by day, unflinching, unhesitant, forgetting nothing, remembering everything but the one insignificant item which was to overthrow him. He felt that he was confronted with a great problem; what to do with the man?
Prince Ludwig took off his hat. "Herbeck, you are a great politician."
"No, prince," replied Herbeck, with ineffable sadness. "Had I been a great politician I should have succeeded. Ah, give this to my merit; self never entered into this dream. For you, my child, only for you. And so great was this dream that I almost made you a queen! You are my flesh and blood, the child of my wife, whom I loved. She was only a singer in the opera, at Dresden, but her soul was great, like yours. It is a simple story."
Hildegarde did not move, nor had she moved since the revelation. Carmichael, a secret joy in his heart, watched the girl for the slightest swaying, that inevitable prelude to fainting. But Hildegarde was not the kind of woman who faints in the face of a catastrophe, however great it might be. The only sign of life lay in her beautiful eyes, the gaze of which remained unwaveringly fixed upon the chancellor's ashen countenance.
"Hildegarde," said the duke, "you shall become my daughter, and you shall dwell here till the end of your days. I will try to right the wrong that has been done to you."
"No, your Highness," she replied. "There is but one place for me, and that is at my father's side." And resolutely she walked to the chancellor's left and her hand stole down and met his firmly. "My father, I forgive you," she said, with quiet dignity.
"They are all wrong, Frederick," whispered Prince Ludwig. "She is as much a princess as the other."
"You forgive me?" The chancellor could not believe his ears.
"Yes, father."
Then, recalling all the child-hunger in his arms and heart, he swept her to his breast convulsively; and the unloosened tears dropped upon her bright head.
"And who am I?" said Gretchen.
"Breuer, you say this little goose-girl is my daughter?"
"I solemnly swear it, Highness. Look into her face again carefully."
The duke did so, a hand on either cheek. He scrutinized every contour, the color of the eyes, the low, broad brow, the curve of the chin. Out of the past he conjured up the mother's face. Yes, beyond any doubt, there was a haunting like-

"But who will prove it to the world?" he cried hopelessly, still holding Gretchen's wondering face between his hands.
"I shall prove it," said the king. "You? And how?"
"I shall marry Gretchen; I shall make her a queen. That will be proof enough."
"A fine stroke, nephew; a bold stroke!" Prince Ludwig laid his hand upon the king's shoulder with rare affection.
"If you accept her without further proof, I, her father, can do no less." And the duke kissed Gretchen on the forehead and led her over to the king, gravely joining their hands.
"Gretchen!" murmured the king. "I do not know how to act like a princess."
"I shall teach you," Gretchen laid her head on his breast. She was very tired and much bewildered.
The duke paced the length of the cabinet several times. No one interrupted his meditation. Back and forth, one hand hanging to the opposite shoulder, the other folding over his chin. Then he paused with abruptness.
"Your Majesty, I regret that your father is not alive to accept my apologies for so baselessly misjudging him. Arnsberg, nothing that I can do will restore these wasted years. But I offer you the portfolio."
"I am only a broken man, your Highness; too old."
"It is my will," Arnsberg bent his head in submission.

HEAT-DANGERS FOR CHILDREN

The little folks do not stand the heat as well as their elders, and special care should be taken to keep them in good physical condition. One of the things to be especially watchful of is the condition of the bowels, which presents many dangers hardly dreamed of by parents. When the child shows a tendency to constipation, if it loses appetite, complains of headaches, it fails to sleep well and awake refreshed, the mother may be certain that the child needs a tonic-laxative with ingredients such as are contained in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, of which most mothers have heard and which thousands of mothers are using for themselves and their children. Indigestion is one of the worst troubles of child-life in the summer time, and it manifests itself in many different ways. Whatever the cause and whatever the manifestation the mother may be sure of removing the trouble with a few doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which should always be kept in the house for emergency. It is sold in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and can be obtained of any druggist. Those who have never used it and wish to make a test of it before buying, can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing DR. W. B. CALDWELL, 400 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

VIROQUA, WIS.
A cow that gives butter amounting to $21.88 per month is a valuable possession. Even in these days of high-priced hay, she pays for her keep, and a lot more besides. Such a cow is owned by G. B. Fisher of this vicinity. He has eight cows entered in the Wisconsin dairy cow competition, and for register of merit, and Will Lindemann from the experiment station at Madison, was here about ten days making tests of the cattle in the contest. Mr. Fisher's eight cows produced in June 6,667 pounds of milk from which 418.758 lbs. of butter were made.
Miss Tilda Omundson departs today for Attleboro and Higgins Beach Mass., to spend her vacation.
The annual rainfall in this vicinity is about 35 inches, over half of which falls between the first of January and the first of June. This year we have had only about seven inches since January first.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Atwood of Gay Mills have been spending a couple of days here with relatives.

Truly, this is "short story" time—when you hunt for breezes at the seashore or in the hills,—when you make a business of being lazy, and want to read nothing that isn't short, and very good, and so thoroughly interesting that everything—even the weather—goes unnoticed.

The best Short Stories now being written are published in August FICTION NUMBER On Sale Now!

HAMPTON'S

Take this August number, for instance. You will find it actually stuffed with story-delight. Don't these names and titles signify some pleasant half hours?—

O. Henry—Here is the story upon which this master story teller was at work up to the time of his recent death.—"The Snow Man."

Gouverneur Morris—In "Practice Makes Perfect," the August "HAMPTON'S" has a deliciously humorous love story, in the very best style of this favorite writer.

Frederick Palmer—A spirit-stirring tale of airship adventure, "Convincing the Imperial Attache," with Danbury Rodd for the hero.

Martha Bruere—Another treasure in the August "HAMPTON'S" is Mrs. Bruere's "Spiritual Bond,"—the tribulations of two affinities in a certain fashionable suburb.

"Chanteclair"—The greatest romance of the greatest of all French romantics, Edmond Rostand.

These and many other leaders give of their best for the summer numbers of "HAMPTON'S." Edwin Balmer and Wm. B. MacHarg continue the stories about "Luther Trant," the young psychological detective who has become one of the most famous characters of American fiction. Arthur Stringer excels his Wire Tapper stories in his tales of the young plutocrat to whom insomnia brings many strange adventures. George Randolph Chester's brilliant wit furnishes a new series. Harris Merton Lyon will delineate character with the keenest insight in America today. George Fitch and Owen Johnson will generously give of their humor.

Every Feature A Big One In "HAMPTON'S" for August

Judson C. Welliver asks "Is Roosevelt Inevitable?" Are you wondering whether the Ex-President will co-operate with the insurgents in reforming the Republican Party; whether he will be re-elected; whether a new great political party will be formed? In Mr. Welliver's article you will find a careful analysis of this situation, and the answer to many questions now puzzling the Nation.

Commander Peary's "Final Figures."—The scientific observations that prove his Pole Discovery.

Charles Edward Russell contributes a thought-arousing article on railroad regulation which does not regulate.

Henrietta Crossman tells stage-struck youth just what it may expect to find in the Dramatic Schools; not only interesting and valuable, but bright and witty.

Rheta Childs Dorr urges us to give the city child a fighting chance and tells what some of our most progressive big cities are doing.

Physicians Make a Report of Examination, but a Jury Trial Is Demanded

William Neumeister, who was re-examined as to his sanity a short time ago has again been declared to be insane by Drs. D. S. McArthur and C. R. Bechman, who submitted their report to Judge Brindley yesterday afternoon. Thereupon Attorney F. E. Withrow, appearing for Neumeister, has demanded a jury trial but no date has been set.

Yesterday Mr. Neumeister asked to have a warrant issued for the arrest of his wife, charging her with assault, but Judge Brindley declined to issue the warrant. Mr. Neumeister was committed to the state hospital at Mendota some time ago but for several months he has been out on parole. A few weeks ago he made application to be re-examined in order to have his citizenship restored and the report of the doctors yesterday was the result of such examination.

COUNTY BUYS A STEAM ROLLER

Case Machine Chosen After Hot Fight, with Austin Gas Engine Close Second

After a session lasting until 11 o'clock last night the committee on roads and bridges of the county board decided to accept a bid of $1,890 for a ten-ton steam road roller from the J. I. Case company. The decision was reached by only one vote, and most of the time the Austin-Western company of Chicago, which offered a gasoline roller for $2,500 was in the lead, once being within one vote of victory. P. E. Rumsey of the Austin company explained to the committee that the gasoline roller offered a saving of 50 per cent in operation, but the difference in cost probably induced the purchase of the Case machine.

The competing firms were the Austin-Western, Kelley-Springfield, Port Huron, Monarch and J. I. Case companies, and the competition was keen throughout the negotiations.

The gasoline motor roller of the Austin people interested the committee very much and if another roller is purchased later, it is likely this machine will be given a trial.

ARTIFICIAL EYES.

To match the natural eye is a clever art. Yet, when one understands the formation of the eye and its appendages, he can fit a glass eye so that you are hardly able to distinguish between it and the natural eye. There is one man in La Crosse who fits artificial eyes perfectly. That is H. C. Evenson, the eyesight specialist, at 500 Main street, upstairs.

Millard Fillmore married twice, and added to his wealth each time.

Has your Watch failed to keep as accurate time - as it once did? Have you had some one repair it and find it worse now than ever before? Many a good watch has been ruined by incompetent workmen. We can restore any watch to its original condition and make it perfectly reliable. We warrant our work and are sure we can make good on any watch brought us for repairs.

PLAN FIGHT ON COLD STORAGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Congressman H. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania and Dr. Wiley, chief chemist, have started a crusade against cold storage packers. Congressman Moore has been conducting an investigation into the cold storage situation and his report has just been issued by the government printing office. This report brings out the startling fact that yearly a total of $3,021,000,000 worth of meats and produce are held in cold storage.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 26.—When democratic state convention convenes in Minneapolis next Thursday there will probably be only one vote and that by acclamation, cast to nominate the gubernatorial candidate, who will be John Lind, despite his reiterated refusal to accept the nomination.

If there is any fight in the convention it will be over the adoption of a county option plank. Lind has said he favors such a plank as a citizen. To induce him to run it is more than probable that the convention will adopt this plank. There is no contest for other state officers, as it is conceded a mere empty honor, the republicans usually carrying the whole ticket, this year the only chance the democrats have being in case Lind will run for governor.

JOY RIDE FATAL TO THREE AUTOISTS

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., July 26.—As the result of an automobile "joy ride" there Misses Leona Adams and Gladys Carlyle and Walter Hodgins, all of Grand Junction, are dead today and C. H. Carmen, chauffeur, is suffering from severe injuries. Their automobile was run down by a passenger train at a passenger train at a crossing and wrecked.

The machine was running at a high rate and in trying to pass a buggy Carmen ran the automobile on the Rio Grande tracks directly in front of a passenger train. The engine struck the car hurling it against a switch light and shatter-

STRANGE DEATH OF GARY, IND., MAN

GARY, Ind., July 26.—Mystery surrounds the death of Frank Scott, chief clerk of the Gary Lumber Company, who was found lifeless lying in a pool of blood in his room here today. A gas jet in the bathroom had been opened and a blanket hung over the door to prevent the gas from escaping to other rooms. Coroner Gordon of Hobart, Ind., believes Scott to be a suicide but the police were unable to account for the blood.

BLITZ and BLATZ

Blitz—Blatz what does it mean, that word "Bug Bang?" I looked in all my directories and can find no explanatory of the wording. I only know it's the best thing to clear a house from bugs. When we moved in the house we live in now, there was so many bugs, that Mrs. Blitz fainted. Immediately I rushed to Beyschlag's Drug Store on 503 Main street, for a 25 cent bottle of that "Bug Bang." After working 30 minutes with it, there was no living bug in the house. Mrs. Blitz had come to again, and after seeing no more bugs agreed to stay and everything was lovely.

Blatz—I don't also know the definition of that word, but it makes no never mind, as long as it works like that!

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, July 26.—Losses ranging from one to two points were sustained at the opening of the stock market today; carrying many stocks to a new low range for the year.

11 a. m.—The lack of support in many issues made it hard to market stocks at sharp concessions in prices. Southern Railway fell over seven points to 43. Consolidated Gas lost more than three points and losses of a point or more were recorded in Reading, Smelting and Amalgamated.

Government bonds unchanged; others weak.

Noon.—A condition approaching demoralization was shown in the late forenoon trading and around midday absence of support and continued forced liquidation resulted in further sharp declines all through the list. Stocks dropped five points between sales and transactions of 100 shares.

2 p. m.—There was no change in the character of the trading in the afternoon. The selling continued and forced prices to new low levels. The stock market closed extremely weak.

New York Stock Letter

NEW YORK. The stock market was again very much demoralized today. The bears raided the list and sent most of the standard stocks down to a new low level. There was an utter absence of support from any quarter and fractional declines were the rule on every sale recorded.

There seemed no real reason for the depression excepting the general all gone feeling that seems to rule most of the manipulators of values these days.

What news there was, for the most part, was of a reassuring character but it had not effect on the market. A good part of today's selling came from brokers that have been rated in the bull column and it was at all times evident that there were few outsiders in the market. Trading was confined to the professional element almost throughout.

A small failure on the Consolidated Exchange was magnified for market purposes and seemed to aid in extending the panicky feeling in every corner of the exchange.

CLOSE RACE FOR SECOND HONORS

NEW YORK, July 26.—The contests for second places in the National and in the American leagues are attracting widespread attention. The victory of the Boston Americans and the defeat of the New York Americans yesterday placed the Red Sox .010 above the Yankees but this lead can be overcome in one day if things break right. The New Yorks and Bostons have been seeing between second and third place for two weeks and their struggle for the honor of being runnerup for the Athletics is keen. In the National league the race for second place is equally close today. The Giants hold the honor, though only the same .010 separates them from the Pirates.

LEGAL CONTEST FOR THE GLIDDEN CUP

NEW YORK, July 29.—Automobile shooters are watching with keen interest the legal proceedings for possession of the Glidden trophy, the prize for the national automobile reliability tour, recently held through the southwestern and western states. Referee A. Whiting awarded the cup to the Premier car number one, but upon appeal to the contest board of the American Automobile Assn. the decision was reversed and the cup ordered given to the Chalmers car. The New York supreme court Saturday granted a temporary injunction to prevent the cup going to the Chalmers people. The arguments on the plea for a permanent injunction promise to be lively.

"THEC DID SOMETHING TO ME" JEFF

AVALON, Catalina Island, Cal., July 26.—"There was something the matter with me. They sure did something to me, and it will all come out some day." These words from the lips of the man who seemed the prototype of the dying gladiator at Reno, are the first that Jim Jeffries has uttered in connection with the fight since he was taken to Oakland, a beaten pulp of a man, and the first in which he has voiced any suspicion of others.
